

note to self: get new darts

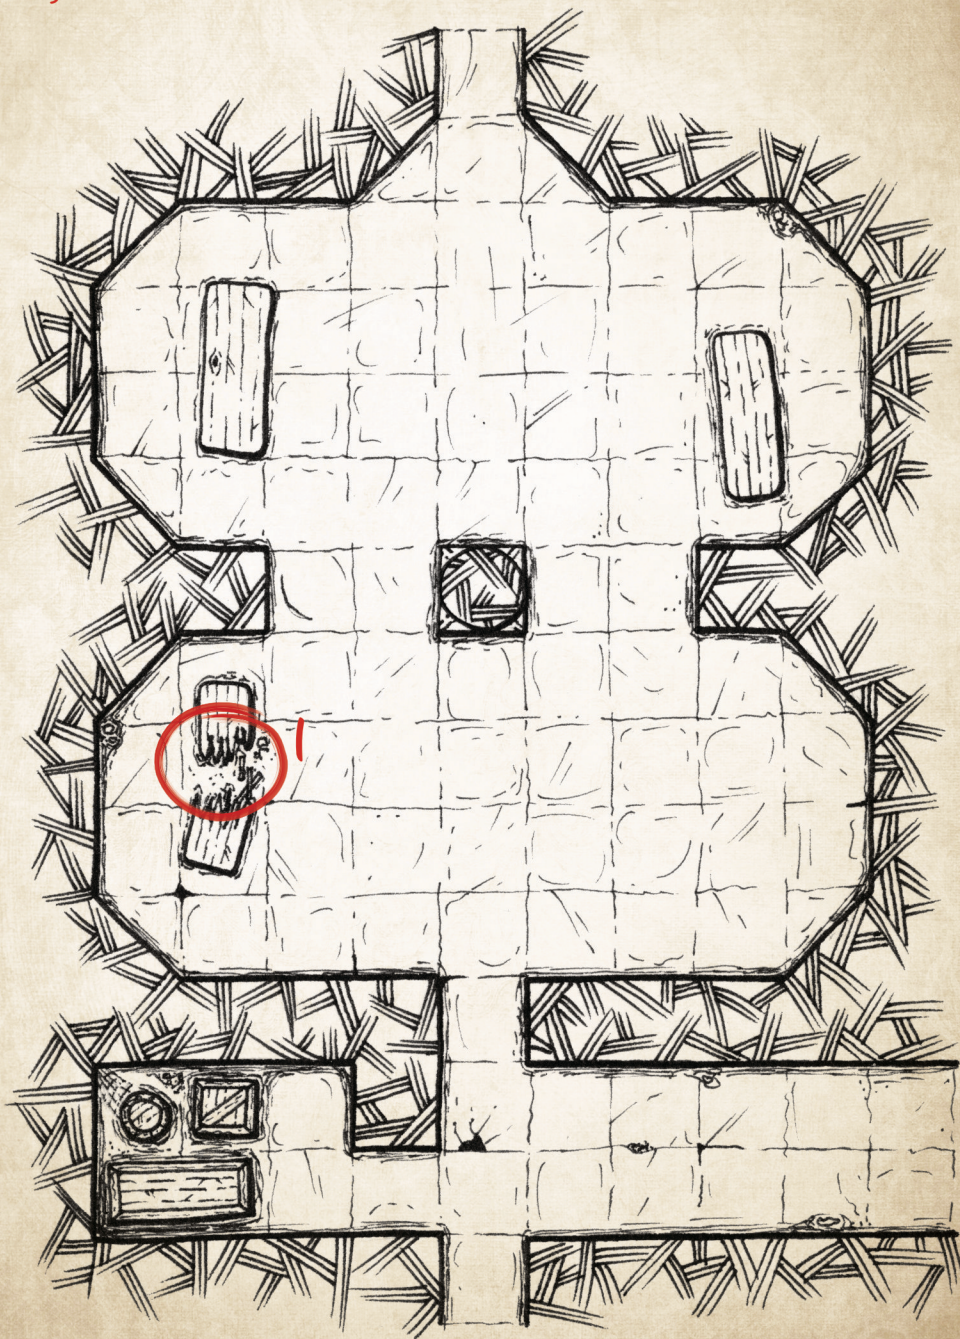

(1) spike trap!!!

(2) some random letters
could be important...

Something is roaming those corridors. I only heard some steps - sounds like a rather small or light creature

Nothing special to find here

(1) the broken bench is giving me a bad feeling though. Something big must have stepped on it.

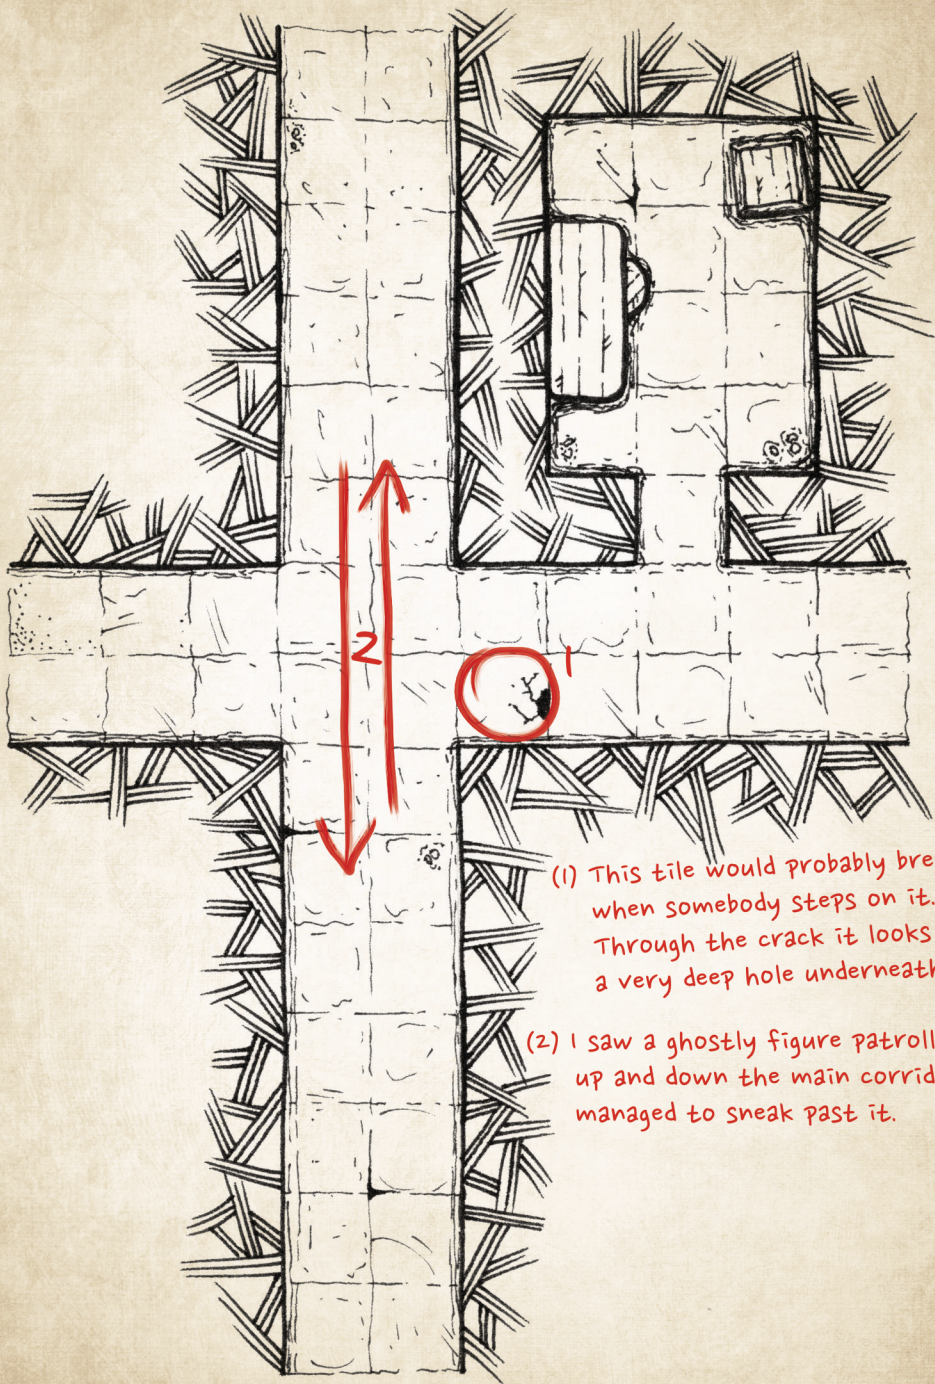

Thought about Aemula again... I wonder how she is at the moment.

(1) What would crawl through this hole? Nothing good I guess...

The water in the bath was clean and I took some time to clean myself and my clothes.

There seems to be some kind of system which replaces the water constantly. It got clean again just a few seconds after I was finished.

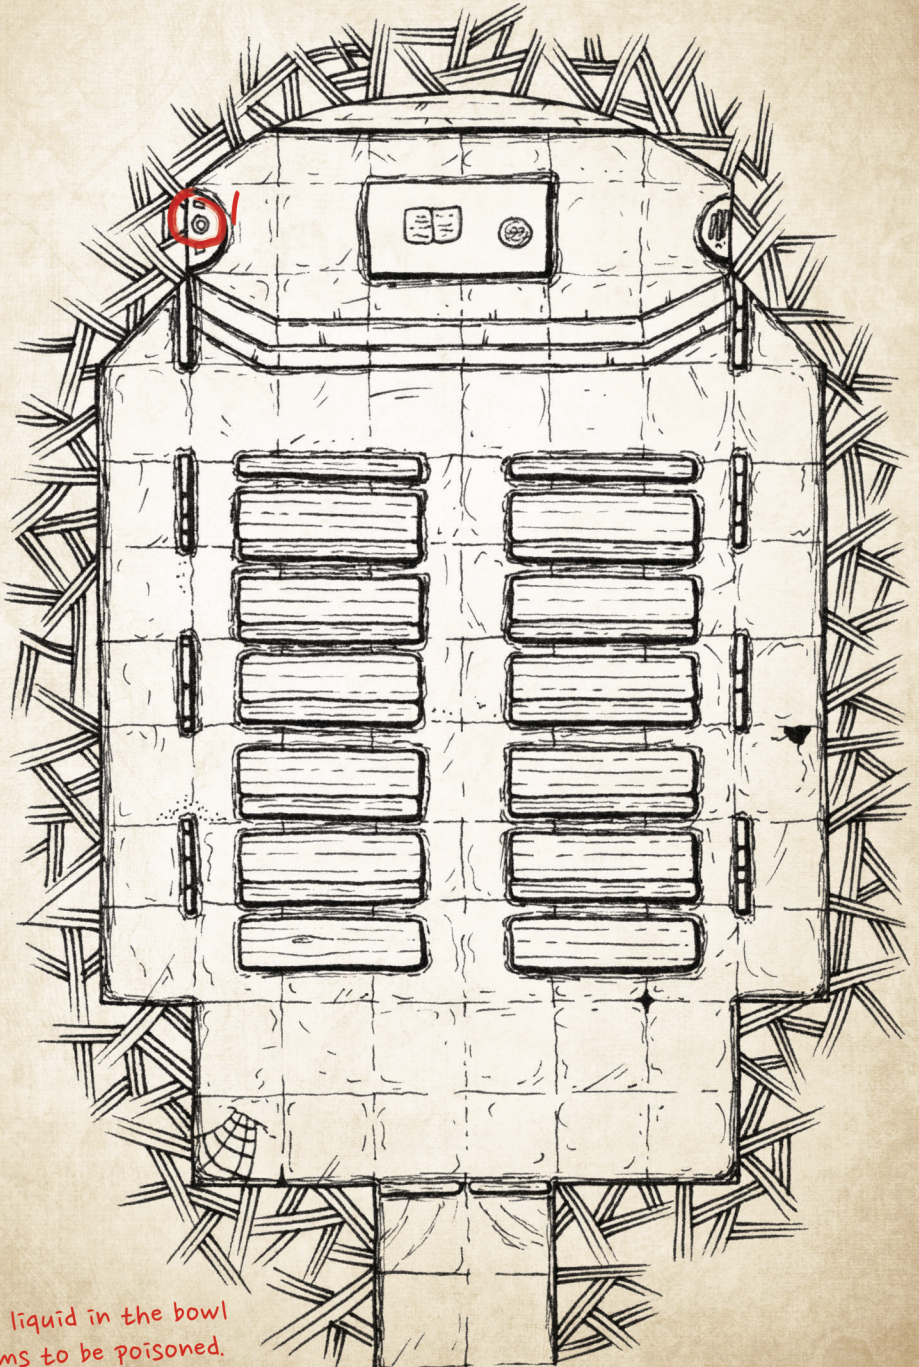

(1) This tile would probably break when somebody steps on it. Through the crack it looks like a very deep hole underneath.

(2) I saw a ghostly figure patrolling up and down the main corridor. managed to sneak past it.

Should I have asked Aemula out? I can't stop thinking about her!!!

Some sort of temple or chapel. Down here? Interesting...

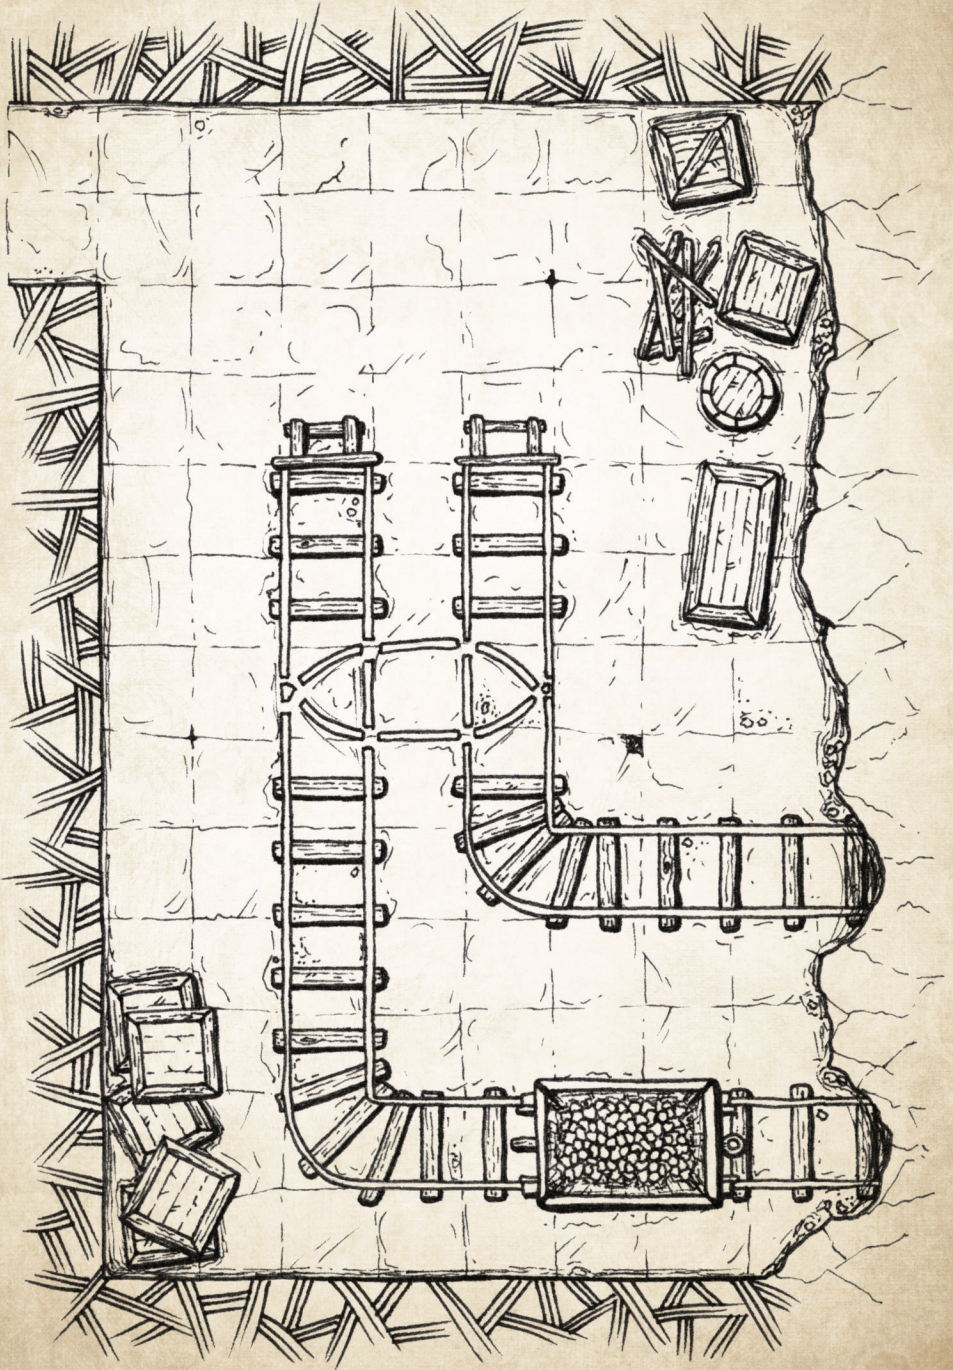

(1) The liquid in the bowl seems to be poisoned. What did they do down here?

(1) an unfinished letter.
looks like the author got interrupted.

Found a very deep hole. couldn't even see to the bottom. But I swear I heard a distant growling from below...

An abandoned mine. There is still some ore and tools to be found.
Everything looks intact and there is no sign of any reason why it's not in use anymore.

Forgot to buy those darts again...

The slimy ooze seems to be highly acidic. Better not touch it.
Luckily I was able to just jump over it. But others might have a difficult time.

When I come back to Bellvale I will talk to her. For sure!

A nasty dart trap
Some plates (x) are pressure sensitive and the darts
are poisoned.

Found this secret door. Looks like there are some valuables in the room behind it.

(1) leaking barrel
the substance is flammable

(2) some books
one looks as if it could be expensive

note to self: read more books

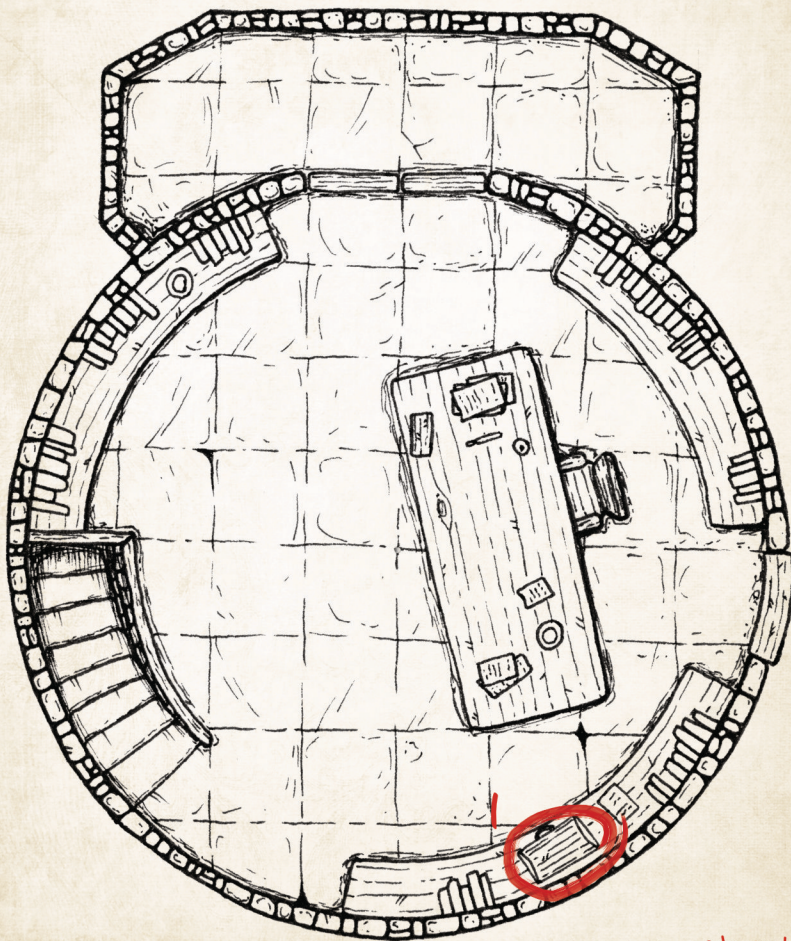

Found an underground entrance to a mage tower. That's why you never see doors on them. clever wizards!

(1) Tripwire - will possibly cause an alarm

Note to self: Look under the rug in case you come back... you forgot it the first time!

FRICK! This is the first mage tower with anything interesting in it.
or maybe I didn't look hard enough. Just dusty books and a small casket made out of stone. Is somebody messing with me?
The letters on the table also look worthless. This is not my day.
Nice view from the balcony though.

(1) A casket made out of stone
Is this a joke or a riddle?

This really is the nicest dining room I have ever seen... And its underground.
What a waste. I imagine how it would look like with big colored windows and a bright light shining through.
